A New Era of Safety and Health
Challenges in Construction

Joint CPD Seminar organized by Health Safety &
Sustainability Committee and Health & Safety
Advisory Committee

With the approaching bloom of construction activities in Hong Kong, it is expected that the construction industry will face another challenge to maintain and further enhance safety and the accident rates.

The talk will give an overview of the existing safety and health systems and practices in Hong Kong and the way forward to improve and better the safety and health performances. The talk will include:

i) Safety & Health Performances in the construction industry
ii) Causes of accident
iii) Practice and Effectiveness of safety management system
iv) Change in Safety Behaviour

Speaker: Dr. Yum-yin Wong started his career in the occupational Safety & Health as a Factory Inspector of Labour Department. He left the Government after 8 years of service and worked in various construction projects for more than 10 years before he was appointed as the Executive Director of the Occupational Safety & Health Council when it was set up in 1988. He formed Y. Y. Wong Safety Consultants Limited in 1994.

Dr. Wong is a Civil Engineer by training and obtained his Ph.D. degree from the University of South Australia on business and management. He is a Fellow member and Registered Safety Practitioner of the Institute of Occupational Safety and Health in U.K, a Fellow of the Royal Institute for the Promotion of Health. He is also a Certified Safety Professional of the United States. Dr. Wong is a Fellow member and was the past President of the Hong Kong Occupational Safety and Health Association of Hong Kong and founder President of the Society of Accredited Safety Auditors.

Dr. Wong has involved in a lot of safety activities, and has been a Member of Safety Officers Advisory Committee of the Hong Kong Government. He is also acting as part time lecturer in Hong Kong Polytechnic University and Construction Industry Training Authority and speaker in public safety seminars and conferences.
